

Skateboarding the Glory Hole

Glory Hole has always been of an adventure destination for dedicated skateboarders. There are many interesting videos on YouTube. It takes some effort to get to the output pipe. The photos and videos show what it's like inside Glory Hole - views that people normally don't get to see. Glory Hole a historical site for skateboarders in Northern California. Since the dawn of skateboarding, skaters have pilgrimaged there to test their skills and push the limits.

To actually reach the outlet pipe, you must take a boat across Putah Creek to get to the bottom opening — a task too strenuous for all but the most dedicated enthusiast. The lakeside opening of the tube is surrounded by water when levels are normal. Trespassing was a major problem in the '80s, but no longer since the popularity of skateboarding has waned. But small groups still venture into the tube to enjoy the thrills.
